

The world needs art.
To open our minds
for alternative future
scenarios. To function
as society's unofficial
research & development department.

Brutus is an Artist Driven Playground for upcoming talent, acclaimed veterans and self-taught artists. At Brutus Space they can dream and experiment on a large scale, without limits or censorship. Brutus was founded in 2008 by Joep van Lieshout.

Everyone is an insider at Brutus, from high school students and local residents to professional art viewers and collectors. Wander, explore and discover art in our raw spaces. Brutus is a cross between a maze and a time machine, a bomb shelter and a launch pad, a laboratory and an industrial ruin, a cabinet of curiosities and a think tank.

Stay current and join us in building alternative scenarios for the future with a one-off donation or as a long-term friend!
